Invite Marines to Share Holiday is Appeal Today

Celebrate Thanksgiving by making someone else happy.

This was the campaign started today by a committee of Villagers, headed by Jim Morton and Culver Parker, to have Palm Springs home owners, restaurants and hotels invite Marines from Twenty-nine Palms Training Base to join them at Thanksgiving dinner.

IMMEDIATE GOAL is securing the traditional dinners in the family atmosphere for 100 Marines, but many more could be brought here, Morton said.

Chaplain John Zoller at the base this morning commended Village residents for the idea. He, together with Colonel J. S. Oldfield, base commandant, and Lt. G. H. Ford, executive officer, will meet this afternoon to complete final details, including transportation to and from Palm Springs.

Families, hotels and restaurants who wish to aid with this project are asked to call 5022 or 2701 as soon as possible, and tell how many Marines they wish to have join them for Thanksgiving dinner, at what time, and whether or not they could provide transportation for their guests from a designated downtown location.

"Have a Marine at your table for dinner," was the final appeal by Morton and Parker.

Plane Wreck Report Still Not Verified

Sheriff's deputies of two counties, the March Air Force Base air and sea rescue squadron and units of the State Division of Forestry today are investigating a report that a plane crashed and burned high on the south slope of Mt. San Geronimo, late last night.

Bud Harkness of Desert Hot Springs reported to the local Forestry division that he saw what he thought was a plane hit the side of the mountain, flash into flames and roll part way down the face of the slope. He reported that the fire could be seen sparking and burning for some 30 minutes.

Carroll Vogelaar, Riverside county deputy sheriff, reported that the night long search for the plane was continued throughout today. Rescue and search parties have been unable to locate the scene of the reported catastrophe.

Who was it said that the unexpected always happens? Wasn't it somebody connected with the Weather Bureau?

An old proverb was shattered here when lightning struck twice "in the same place." That place was strangely, the home of the government weather observer. He said the first bolt shattered part of the roof and the second demolished the radio, stunning him and his wife.

Salaries in Private Colleges Too Low for Best Talent Says Colegate Prexy Here

By PHIL GALLISHAW

A young man who wants to become a professor at an independently endowed university has a future bright only in its outlook of satisfaction from accomplishment, fulfillment of dedication to an ideal, and a desire to learn.

He cannot look forward to a future brightened by dollars. If he is temperamentally suited, and goes to college after high school and studies and writes for his masters degree after college, and then studies and writes a thesis for his doctorate, he can look forward to spending about 20 years working hard and learning all the time, so that he will become a full professor and have an annual earning capacity of $7500.

WHEN DR. EVERETT CHASE, president of Colgate University, addressed the Committee of 25 yesterday at lunch, he told them that the salary potential in private colleges and universities must be enlarged or there will not be any competent professors to teach.

Dr. Chase and his assistant, Dr. Howard Jones, Colgate's director of development, have traveled 20,000 miles this Fall in search of $3,300,000.

They want the money mainly to increase faculty members' paychecks. Dr. Chase told the Committee that there is a problem in all colleges now, but more in small plants whose payrolls and budgets are paid from endowments and contributions.

HE SAID the increase in the birthrate during World War II will show up within five years, when 50 per cent more freshmen enroll than before the war, the last normal enrollment period.

There is a need for a corresponding increase in faculties. Good men are needed, and they must be paid.

PRESIDENT CHASE will meet with educators and financiers Monday in San Francisco. The group is called the Council on Financial Aids to Education. It was founded three years ago by Alfred Sloan, General Motors, Frank Abrams,

Pioneers to be Honored at Tamarisk Park Program

"Come one, come all, to honor the Founders of Palm Springs."

This was the invitation issued today by Mrs. Frank Bennett, chairman of the sponsoring Palm Springs Historical Society, who is spearheading the drive to honor 150 persons who were residents here prior to 1924.

THE CELEBRATION will be held tomorrow at Tamarisk Park, starting at 12:30 p.m. with a box luncheon. All except persons to be honored are requested to bring their own lunches.

Pioneers are requested to wear attire indicative of the year when they first arrived in the Village, if possible.

A highlight of the celebration will be a musical program presented by the Palm Springs Civic Chorus, to be concluded by group singing of old favorites.

ALL PIONEERS will be presented with honorary membership cards in the Historical Society by Mayor Florian Boyd.

Aiding in the sponsorship of the first annual celebration are the Chamber of Commerce and City of Palm Springs.

Assisting Mrs. Bennett with the arrangements are the following:

MRS. BURHAM BIGELOW, vice

Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Irving Olds, United States Steel.

These men and others in their field, together with college and university presidents, such as Dr. Chase and Dr. Alfred Coons, of Occidental College, make up the Board of Directors of the Council.

DR. CHASE SAID that the men who started University of Chicago, Rockefeller; Standard, Leland Stanford's railroads; Colgate, the tooth paste fortune; and Rochester, Eastman's films, now live only as corporations, and their money goes in large ratios to the treasury department. So the money, which as taxes would go in part to support public education, also is given, before taxes, to the privately endowed schools.

Dr. Chase and Dr. Jones took the side trip to the Village to see Colgate alumnus, Joe Froggatt, Class of '18, who lives at Thunderbird Country Club.

THEY WILL LEAVE Wednesday from San Francisco by plane to be with their families for Thanksgiving. They would like to take a check for the remainder of the $3,300,000 with them. They have collected about $65,000 from the Alumni Association and the faculty members already, not counting individual endowments.

They feel that they must have the money to preserve the basis of education—a good teacher.

Pope Receives Stassen Today

CASTELGANDOLFO, Italy — Pope Pius XII today received Harold E. Stassen in private audience at his Summer residence here.

Stassen, President Eisenhower's special advisor on disarmament, spent about 20 minutes with the pontiff. He answered questions about the recent abortive Geneva conference of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Stassen came to Rome from Geneva yesterday for talks with Italian government officials.

District Court to Hear Hass Plea Dec. 14

Oral Arguments on Schedule; Briefs Already on File

Fourth District Court of Appeals in San Bernardino has set a hearing date on the appeal filed in the councilmanic redistricting case involving Herbert Hass versus the City of Palm Springs, for 10 a.m., Wednesday, December 14.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker, who successfully defended the city in the initial suit in superior court, again will represent the city, and Attorney Leonard Bock will represent the plaintiff.

ORAL ARGUMENTS only will be heard at that time, with briefs having been submitted earlier.

The controversy started when a redistricting ordinance election failed to carry by the required three-fourths majority as stated on the ballot. The vote to redistrict councilmanic districts carried by 783 to 596, but was 251 votes short of the stated majority needed.

Hass, who was chairman of the redistricting committee, through Bock, maintains that the three-fourths requirement was "unconstitutional, not provided for by state law and therefore void."

CITY COUNCIL, by a 5 to 2 vote, through Bunker, countered with the argument that enactment of the ordinance would be a fraud upon the voters, as it clearly stated on the ballot that a three-fourths majority was required for enactment. Jerry Nathanson and Ted McKinney were dissenters, asking that the ordinance be adopted immediately.

Redistricting has been in the courts for several years, and it is expected that regardless of the decision in the Appellate court, the matter will not be ended until the State Supreme Court has rendered a decision in the matter.

Three Vehicles Overtaken in One Day on Hiway 111

Three cars rolled over yesterday on Highway 111, north and south of the Village.

Betty Jo Hastings, Smoke Tree Trailer Park, was driving south toward the Village at 4:05 p.m., when she tried to pass a car, heard another auto honk behind her, and lost control. Her 1950 sedan, carrying two passengers, skidded 137 feet, struck sand in the center of the divided highway, and rolled over, landing on the right side facing north.

Riding with Mrs. Hastings were her daughter, Suzie, and Donna Hill, a friend of Suzie's. No one was injured.

The other accidents occurred within a half hour of each other near Araby point. At 2:35 a.m., Bonnie Miggie, 572 Paseo de Anza, struck soft shoulder about a half mile south of Araby point, rolling her vehicle. She was uninjured and was taken home by a passing motorist.

At 3 a.m., a car driven by Choice Moore, Cathedral City, failed to make the turn at Araby Point and overturned. He was taken to Desert Hospital, and released after a check. No citations were issued.

Rescue Team Still 2 Days from Wreck

Severe Weather Impedes Progress to Crash Scene

LAS VEGAS —Icy winds and snow hampered an arctic rescue squad today as it edged its way over jagged rocks on Mt. Charleston to within three miles of the wreckage of an Air Force transport which crashed with 14 persons aboard.

No signs of life were found yesterday by an aerial reconnaissance plane which flew over the blackened wreckage. The big transport slammed into the mountain Thursday 500 yards below the peak which towers 11,910 feet above the Nevada desert.

The Air Force was almost certain the wreckage was that of the missing C-54, but it was pointed out that since the wrecked plane's markings were burned off, positive identification of the craft would not be made until rescuers reach the scene.

THE SQUAD RADIOED it would take another two days to reach the scene because of extremely steep, rugged terrain. The Air Force estimated it would be a week before the bodies are removed.

Strong winds and falling snow forced the rescuers to make camp early last night. The group radioed there were two feet of snow and more was expected by morning. Winds made it impossible to parachute a rescue team into the scene and prevented helicopter operations.

A sheriff's posse followed behind the rescue crew to stand by and take the bodies as they are brought down.

THE PLANE had left Burbank on a routine flight to Groom Dry Lake. It carried Air Force personnel and civilian employees who were engaged in secret work with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Authorities said it appeared the transport lost its bearings in a snowstorm and the pilot made a last-second effort to lift the plane over the peak.

An Air Force spokesman in Washington denied earlier reports that top-ranking AEC scientists or atomic equipment were aboard the ill-fated plane.

Air Force Ordered to Avoid Gettysburg

WASHINGTON, — The Air Force has ordered its pilots not to "traverse a circular area two nautical miles radius, the center of which is located on 77 degrees 15 minutes 48 seconds west longitude and 39 degrees 47 minutes 47.5 seconds north latitude."

The order means don't fly over President Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The campaign will be started at an Eighth District Department Conclave scheduled for Sunday after-

Maybe Harry Oliver Really is Serious About Candidacy

Harry Oliver's running—and not away from the nomination. What started out to be a campaign in jest could develop into a serious proposition.

The editor of the Desert Rat Scrapbook today had this comment when asked about the seriousness of his intentions to run for Congress as a successor to John Phillips:

"I have been interested in this corner of the desert since I homesteaded in Borrego Valley 40 years ago. For over 35 years I wrote of it . . . traveled over it . . . as no one else I know . . . I have thousands of subscribers in these counties . . . (Many who have shown they will 'fan the fire') . . . It has been suggested that I carry on a 'Camp Fire' campaign from Picacho to Cabazon."

Meanwhile, the campaign manager for the nationally known desert humorist remains in doubt. Rumors are that Bill Fadden of the Palm Springs Guide, the Palm Springs Toastmasters or Jaycees will take over the job.

Then too, Harry might utilize the services of his news-carrying Desert Roadrunners or Pack Rats to take over the job of soliciting votes.

Caliph of Fez is Killed in Prison Brawl at Rabat

RABAT, Morocco, — The Caliph of Fez, a follower of the ousted Sultan of Morocco, was killed in a palace brawl today when he came to make peace with the new sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef.

The Caliph, deputy to the powerful Pasha of Fez, was stabbed to death inside the imperial palace during a brawl among followers of Ben Youssef and his predecessor, Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat.

First reports had said two other persons were killed in the fight. It was later announced the two were severely injured but survived.

The stabbing occurred as the Caliph Baghdad was awaiting an audience with Ben Youssef, who had returned from two years of French-imposed exile only three days ago.

A group of Ben Youssef supporters, also waiting to see the Sultan, recognized the Caliph. Somebody muttered an insult and a murderous free-for-all battle started.

The Caliph, survivor of several assassination attempts, drew his ornamental dagger and his vest-pocket pistol, but it was too late. He slumped bleeding to the floor, fatally stabbed in the back.

Kirkwood Visit Set for Tuesday

Robert C. Kirkwood, state controller, will be in Palm Springs from 2 to 3 p.m., Tuesday, to meet with local Republican leaders, it was reported today by Warren Slaughter, district official.

He will arrive here after addressing a meeting of the Indio Rotary Club.

Kirkwood succeeded U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel as controller, when the latter was appointed to his post.

Cyprus Mobs Renew Attack Second Day

Children Join in Stoning Troops in Wild Rioting

NICOSIA, Cyprus, — British troops and police battled well-armed terrorist bands today in the second straight day of violence renewed by pro-Greek Cypriots on this strategic island base in the Mediterranean.

Authorities began a major drive to stamp out anti-British terrorism after a day of rioting in which at least one British soldier was killed and dozens of persons wounded by bombs and bullets. It was the worst outbreak in several months on this 120-mile island, the major British base in the area since the evacuation of the Suez Canal Zone.

Reports early today said British troops and police engaged in pitched battles with terrorists at two widely-separated points.

Troops were rushed to Deftera, eight miles south of Nicosia, after terrorists armed with submachine guns attacked a police station. The raiders were believed to be members of the underground Eoka terrorist organization.

At Larnaca, some 500 school children stoned police and had to be driven off with tear gas and batons. In Evrychou, the police station was heavily stoned and troops were called out to restore order.

Fighting also was reported on the Larnaca-Famagusta road, in southeastern Cyprus. The battle was said to have been touched off by a bombing attempt on a police car.

1956 Desert Circus Theme Idea Needed

Wanted—One theme for the 1956 Desert Circus celebration in Palm Springs.

Dates for the traditional twentieth annual event have been set for April 19 through 23.

The theme should summarize the color and glamor of the Village—and should carry a thought around which Palm Springs' businesses, its residents and visitors can weave a week of gaiety which will end in the historic parade of floats and costumes.

Ideas may be sent to: Theme Department, The Desert Sun, Post Office Box 190, Palm Springs.

Greene, Aitken Attend State Juvenile Meet

Sgt. Ted Greene and Officer Morrie Aitken picked up valuable hints as to methods of apprehension and treatment of juvenile delinquents when they attended the regular meeting of the Southern California Juvenile Officers Association at the New Police building Thursday night in Los Angeles.

Greene and Aitken made a tour of the building, sat in on the felony show-up, and heard two lectures.

The tour included an in-operation demonstration of what is probably the finest police radio-communications system in the world.

The lectures concerned the intricacies of apprehension, arrest, and conviction of sex offenders and child molesters.

Many of the 35 accused felons in the show-up, Greene said, denied that they had ever used narcotics, but marks on their arms which had prompted their arrests proved them to be lying.

An invitation was issued to the members of the association to convene for their next meeting in Palm Springs. Greene said he did not know when the meeting would be scheduled.

All Den Mothers and committee members are to meet at 1:30 p.m., Monday, at the Chamber of Commerce.

Desert Museum Trades 3 Sidewinders for 2 Dipos

(Editor's Note: One of the six agencies sponsored by the Community Chest is the Desert Museum, which has attendance proportionately way above that of larger, similar institutions. Dr. C. Museum's activities.)

A Desert Museum's exhibit attracting large numbers of young—and older—folk has been three evil-looking sidewinders. Until a few days ago they were on view in the Museum's display cases.

Two Zoology instructors from UCLA visited the desert over the weekend to get snakes and other desert animals for instruction purposes—but no snakes were found. The Museum—which has something for everybody—arranged a trade: three hungry snakes in exchange for two lively "Dipos" or Kangaroo Rats.

The only trouble now is that visitors to the Museum are not confronted with as visible an exhibit. The snakes were in sight 24 hours while the Kangaroo Rats are nocturnal and spend most of the day in hiding.

Although the same seems to be holding true just now for the ground squirrel and the large tortoises (who are holed up for the winter) small tortoise babies are still to be seen roaming their cage for an hour or so in the warmth of the afternoon.

A check of attendance since the Museum's opening a month ago shows nearly one-third of the total to be youngsters of elementary school age. This encouraging increase over last year's 25 percent child attendance is due to the Museum's effort to increase its service to the young.

Through closer cooperation with such other Community Chest-sponsored agencies as the Youth Center, Boys Club and the Boy and Girl Scouts, the museum's service to young people will continue to increase in importance.

Hit-Run Suspect Found by Kraft, Faces Charges

Quick action and good police work by Sgt. Lou Kraft of the Police Reserve was credited for the arrest of Rafael Duarte Nunez, 35, on a hit and run charge.

Nunez was arrested and charged with hit and run driving, and driving without a license, in connection with the car-stone wall case Thursday morning at Alejo Road and Indian Avenue.

Kraft saw Nunez' car parked in a parking lot, saw the damage to the fender, and remembered the two hit and run reports. He was off duty, so he called the police station. Officers Morrie Aitken and Richard Harries picked up Nunez.

The suspect was also wanted in connection with a warrant for driving while his license had been suspended. Aitken said the suspect has been convicted three times of drunk driving.

Nunez was released on $250 bail, and is scheduled to appear before Judge Eugene Theriault's Municipal District Court on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

By BILL RASHALL

Brr, but it's cold outside. There's ice to be seen here and there. People on the street move about their individual businesses and errands.

And this is all good for Palm Springs where I know the sun is shining and so many of these people will be boarding the Western Air Lines ship for the "Champagne Flight" to my home town and really glad to be doing so.

YOU SEE I'M way up here in Seattle and as a worthwhile companion who is used to this cold but did escape it to make his permanent home in Palm Springs is one Howard Morris, owner of the Palm Springs Music company. We have separate rooms, an different floors too. I have a sneaking hunch that Howard will grab a plane today and head for Vancouver from whence he and his lovely wife Kay originally hailed. And we have both found out that there is something more in the way of value to a shot of grog (inhaled neatly). It warms one's gizzard.

There's one consolation one derives as a guest of the luxuriously appointed Olympic hotel, a member hostelry of Western Hotels of which our Oasis Hotel is also a part of the chain. Most alluring at this particular moment however is the beautiful Marine Room and those gizzard warming glasses of grog. More about this hotel when I return to the land of sunshine. This country is beautiful but not for me during winter months. Lovely during the Summer though and a lot of Villagers vacation here then.

JUST BEFORE I left I made the rounds of the various SPOTS Before Your Eyes — The Racquet Club, Doll House, Chi Chi, Don The Beachcomer and ended up by closing time at the The Palm House and Doodles Weaver's antics there are really funny.

At Charley Farrell's place, and does he love that Racquet Club. I know because he told me so and as if you didn't know. He confided that he is happier now in this, his native element, than ever before in his life. One reason is that "I'm out of politics and I want to stay out. I love this here Palm Springs," he exulted.

AT DON THE Beachcomer sighted Frankie Sinatra and Frankie Laine in deep conversation, and there too was Bill Goetz and his lovely wife. Tommy Hull of the Hull hotel chain, who quaintly declared that "I'm getting to be a little bit old."

Lovely Ethel Strebe proudly informed me that her daughter Corrin who graduates from Westlake in June will receive her class ring Tuesday, and next Monday she will celebrate her 16th birthday. Her sister Georgann turned 17 November 14.

MARTIN POLLARD, Sherman Oaks Cadillac dealer, here with his wife for a week decided to return. They bade goodbye to George and Ethel Strebe but the next night were back at the Doll House. "We got as far as Cabazon and the idea of returning to Los Angeles, the smog, rain and fog just overwhelmed us. So we turned around and came back for another week of heaven," they explained.

Peter B. Sheptenko has cracked all of his realty sales records. So far this year, it was learned, he has been instrumental in selling $1,500,000 in properties.

Red Kenyon came up with an unusual Christmas gift suggestion this week, and once presented it will always "be at home," declared the canny Redhead. What is it? Of course—a swimming pool! And then there was the guy just as offensive as his breath buying chlorophyll tablets. "I won't pay the penny tax. Never pay sales tax. Tell your boss to pay it," he viciously informed Helen Morris in the Palm Springs Drug store. Her boss is George and happens to be her husband.

Three 'E's' Suggested for Cutting Traffic Slaughter

EDITOR'S NOTE: President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety is promoting the second annual Safe Driving Day—Dec. 1—in the hope of reducing the number of persons killed or injured on roads and streets. The toll last year was 36,000 dead, 1,250,000 hurt. Following is the third of three dispatches on traffic accidents.

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON 10 — What can be done to cut down the slaughter on the nation's streets and highways?

The three E's might help. They stand for education, engineering, enforcement.

R. W. Tupper of the American Automobile Association believes "the great promise of the future" lies in the driver-education program in high schools.

It was pioneered nearly 25 years ago by Prof. Amos E. Neyhart of Pennsylvania State University. Now 7749 of the country's 24,000 high schools offer traffic courses which include behind-the-wheel training. The program has a long way to go, however.

OF SOME 1,600,000 high school students eligible for such training each year, only about 470,000—or a little over one-fourth—get a complete course including on-the-road instruction. Fewer than 1,000,000 get even classroom instruction on how to drive and live.

Is such training worthwhile? A survey showed that drivers who received high school training had only half as many accidents as those who didn't.

THE SCHOOL PATROL system which got started back in 1923-27, is credited with saving many lives. When the system was getting under way, some 3800 children in the 5-14 age group were slaughtered annually. The slaughter is still going on, but last year it was down to 2350.

Tupper also believes that replacement of hazardous roads with express highways, coupled with limits on speed and effective enforcement, will greatly improve the safety record.

A LOT OF PEOPLE get killed on turnpikes but not as many on a mileage basis, he says, as wind up their lives on other roads. The Automotive Safety Foundation believes road improvements could cut accidents more than 40 percent.

Getting the accident-prone off the highways through tougher licensing and inspection of the moral vital rules—such as those against drunk driving—also could help to produce what experts call "the best possible safety device": The safe driver.

PEDESTRIANS could improve their chances at night by wearing something white to make them more visible to motorists. And by abandoning jay-walking.

Auto engineers have done a lot for safety with better lights, better brakes, better steering, improved shock absorption, and safety glass. But the Cornell crash injury research project found that killing and serious injury could be substantially reduced by further engineering improvements.

SOME COMPANIES are offering such things as safety belts, and work is being done on padded instrument panels and various shock absorption proposals for minimizing effects of accidents. Just last week, Sen. Thomas Martin of Iowa credited safety belts with saving him and his wife when their car overturned and was wrecked. One idea was being pursued in an electronic gadget to keep you from dozing at the wheel.

Is there any hope of even partial victory in the war against what has been called "highway homicide" and "mobile murder"? The figures say yes—despite an increase in the number of vehicles on the road from 35 million in 1941 to nearly 60 million this year and an expected 80 million by 1965.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

By SYLVIA PORTER

Sir: When next you buy a suit, it's a 50-50 chance that your wife or sweetheart will be with you.

And the odds are that in place of the Draped Shape Look of the mid-40's or the Casual Look of the early '50s, you'll now go for the Natural Look—with its narrow lapels, minimum of shoulder padding, straight, two-button jacket, trim trousers.

Should you—and she—decide against the Natural, though, it's then likely you'll buy the Ivy League Look—with its no-shoulders appearance, slim three-button jacket, even slimmer trousers.

YOU WILL PROBABLY tend toward today's version of charcoal gray, a gray made lighter by stripes, decoration in the fabric. You will purchase or receive as Christmas presents ties so narrow they will remind you of Grandpa's era.

You will also adorn yourself a good part of the time with colored shirts—pastel pink, mint green, pale yellow, light blue.

In short, Mr. America, you're finally succumbing to it, you're at last becoming style conscious. And, say America's manufacturers and retailers of men's clothing—as well as your women-hallelujah, it's about time!

NOT SINCE THE days of the Revolutionary War has the American male been so aware of the style of his clothing. And as important, not since then has he been so willing to admit his awareness.

For decades most men have entered a store, said to the salesman, "Give me a suit (or shirt or tie, etc.) like the one I'm wearing." And it has taken years to make an American male feel that, maybe, his "good" suit has become a little out of style.

Today more and more men are going into a store and saying, "Show me the latest."

For decades the American husband has been entirely content to wear clothes that automatically have put him in the background. In fact, he has insisted on being inconspicuous.

Recently I've been at parties where—no fooling—the women have been the "conservatives" with their quiet, one-color outfits and the men have been the spectacular.

MEN'S FASHION shows are spreading all over the country. Such aggressively male organizations as the Rotary Clubs and American Legion Posts actually are asking men's fashion groups to put on shows for their members.

Increasing numbers of newspapers are offering columns and full sections devoted to men's fashions. And the reader response to the articles has startled even the most cynical editors.

"How come? Why?" I asked Michael Daroff, head of H. Daroff, makers of the largest men's clothing brand in the medium-priced field ("Botany 500") and one of the leaders in the men's fashion revolution.

"World War II gave it the first big impetus," he said. "The American designer and manufacturer got away from European styling. They were thrown on their own and had to come up with something and they did."

"THIS GAVE THE American woman, with her acute style sense, a chance to move in and she did." (Women buy more than 70 percent of all men's furnishings, are with the men when more than 50 percent of all suits and topcoats are sold.)

"And TV has helped by helping to create a national taste in a hurry." This really has been an assist in reverse—for by showing so many old movies, TV has emphasized how much styles of clothes have changed.

Makers and sellers of men's clothes are now determined to push the fashion revolution, for understandably they want to snatch a bigger share of the consumer's dollar. "The fact that the biggest sales increases are being shown by leaders in style changes shows what lies ahead," says Daroff.

Maybe what lies ahead is foretold by an experience of my own the other day. I had just slipped into my deceptively simple little black in preparation for an evening out when I noticed my husband was still half-dressed and just staring into his closet. Then came the perplexed masculine voice from behind the door:

"What'll I wear?"

PRESERVING THE CONSTITUTION—The necessity of being constantly on guard to protect our constitutional liberties must be apparent to a great many freedom-loving Americans. Five amendments to the Federal Constitution are proposed to protect it from the inroads of the past 20 years.

In his Farewell Address, George Washington declared: "If in the opinion of the people the distribution or modification of constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation, for this though in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed." We should heed the warning of our First President who saw the dangers of usurpation.

Here, in substance, are the five proposed amendments which have been proposed for the preservation of constitutional liberties:

- 1) The Mundit-Coudert Amendment — which would cut down the un-democratic advantage of New York (state and city) in the selection of presidential nominees of both major parties. This amendment would give each state the number of electors equal to its delegation in Congress, chosen in the same manner as the Senators and Representatives are elected.
- 2) The Reed-Dirkson Amendment — which would limit income taxes to a maximum rate of 25 per cent — except when three-fourths of each house of Congress vote for a higher rate; in which case, if the bottom rate exceeds 25 per cent, the top rate cannot be more than 15 percentage points higher than the bottom rate.
- 3) The Reed-Walter Amendment — would permit the Constitution to be amended entirely by action — both proposal and ratification of the state legislatures — completely bypassing Congress. It seems certain that the five amendments would get the approval of 36 legislatures if they are given a chance to vote on them.
- 4) The Byrd-Bridges Amendment — which would require Congress to impose federal taxes sufficient to provide revenues at least equal to the appropriations except in time of war declared by the Congress or when the U.S. is engaged in open hostility against an external enemy. The object is to make illegal the unbalanced budget which is the cause of inflation, the most unjust of all forms of taxation.
- 5) The Bricker Amendment which would prevent treaties or other international agreements from having any force or effect if they conflict with any provision of the Constitution. A treaty and other international agreement would not become part of our internal law unless implemented by appropriate legislation.

These measures which would have to be approved by the States are all designed to preserve and protect the Constitutional rights which are gradually being taken from the people. There is not space to elaborate on all the proposals but every citizen should study them. You will undoubtedly hear more about them during next year's presidential campaigns. Be on the lookout for them.

TEN POSTAL POINTERS — Aside from the military establishments, perhaps no other phase of national government is more important and necessary to the public as a whole than the post office department, which has always been an integral part of our daily life.

Since mail service is so vital to most of us, the post office department has prepared "ten basic postal pointers" which, if adhered to by individuals, can greatly facilitate mail handling and delivery. The 10 pointers are:

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Use zone numbers and avoid confusing abbreviations.
2. Include your return address in the upper left hand corner of letters and packages.
3. Mark letter for hand-stamping when mailing coins or other hard objects.
4. Do not mail cash. Use postal money orders or checks.
5. Make sure parcels are well packed and wrapped securely. Enclose a card with the recipients address and your own return address.
6. Check to be sure your mail has sufficient postage.
7. Always place stamps in upper right hand corner.
8. Insure parcels and use registered mail for valuable letters. If proof of delivery is required use certified mail.
9. Mail early and often. Separate mail in local and out-of-town bundles.
10. Be sure your correspondents have your correct address and notify them of any change.

If people of the Hemet-San Jacinto Valley will read and follow the above suggestions it is certain that the work of the postal clerks and carriers at the Hemet and San Jacinto offices will be substantially lightened and the public will benefit through improved delivery service.

Ashland, Ky., Independent — It is the introduction of innovations, year by year, that keeps automobile sales high. There is nothing more effective than an array of improvements in a new model that has also had its face lifted in creating a desire among automobile owners to trade the old bus in on a new one.

By constantly keeping on its toes the automobile industry has achieved its present phenomenal production and has evolved a mechanical marvel on wheels that would have been almost universally regarded as impossible of attainment not many years ago.

DILLON, S.C., Herald — If a few people did not save something out of their earnings this would be a mighty sorry world in which we live. There would be no banks, railroads, factories or other establishments that provide work for the people. Civilization would not have advanced and man would have the same status as his primitive ancestors who fished and hunted day by day to provide food and wearing apparel for themselves and their families.

"OFF" YEAR

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Into every life
Some rest must come,
Or else you'll be
A bigger hum.

The above effort is respectfully dedicated to two communications this week. Communications which I enjoyed to the utmost until warned by Mrs. G. that pride goeth before a fall and that I should be careful or I'd be flat on my face—or something.

AT ANY RATE, these two communications, one via the Spencerian route, or as Messrs Funk and Wagnalls term it, the Chirographical art, the other verbal. But both had the same idea, bless 'em. Both are women — pardon me — ladies. I won't mention any names because some of my detractors might see fit to belittle their intelligence. But, anyway, both of the communications were of the same stripe. "There are seven days in the week. You write only three days. That means, by simple subtraction, that you idle yourself four days. Now, Bill Henry only takes three days off. Do you think you are better? (Editor's Note—Emphatically No!) Gene Sherman, another of our favorites, writes a column SIX days of the week. Do you think, etc. (Editor's Note—Heavens, or vice versa, No!) So that is the reason for the above attempt at verse. A guy has got to have a little respite. Or, as most people would say, rest.

BESIDES, DONALD Klotzbuecher and Fred Weigel, (I tremble when I write those names because I sometimes have trouble spelling Graettinger which I have done for 10, these many years) need an outlet once a week. Weigel, so that he can talk about his pet page, The Desert Empire, and Donald, because he picks up a lot of material on the cityside of town for which he needs a spot to put it. I could do him dirt by printing some of it ahead of his usual Friday stint but underneath this rugged tough exterior beats a gentle heart and I refrain. So that is why "By Phat" appears but twice a week. In other words, it's a try-weekly deal.

THIS WILL PROBABLY be a blow to Mr. Harry Oliver, author, publisher, teller of tall tales, and so on. But I AM NOT going to support him in his campaign for congress. The reason has its roots in an incident several years ago while I was on vacation. Seated down besides the turf looking out at the surf, I was having a rough day. All of the horses I supported were either goats or dogs. So I turned the pages of my paper from the sports section to the front page. Figured that if I couldn't improve the breed, I might improve my mind. And there I read an item which set forth that Jacqueline Cochrane has just set a new air-plane speed record. Glancing idly at my program the name "Aviatrix" No. 7 in the fifth race, smacked me in the eye. I didn't even look out for women and children in my mad rush to the win window. And this story is a switch from the usual race track track yarns. Aviatrix bounced in at box car figures and I was real healthy again. I'll never forget and to express my gratitude, Miss Cochrane will get my vote next year. Sorry, Harry, but last Fall I risked two bucks on a horse named Oliver, just in remembrance of you—and he ran dead last. You can't get votes that way.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — Andy Griffith's Broadway success story is like that of many a shapely young actress except that, instead of accenting sex, he accentuated accent.

"Do you mind if I step across the street and bring myself in some supper?" the ex-North Carolina school teacher drizzled the other afternoon in his dressing room at the Alvin. When a waiter fetched him back some stew, Andy attacked it hungrily and then suddenly said, "Aw, now, I didn't order you all anything!"

Andy plays the hillbilly private in "No Time For Sergeants" so well that Hollywood's after him, which surprises him because his folks never believed in show business "and the like of that."

"You see, my wife thought we could make a livin' entertainin' civic clubs, and I didn't think we could," continued Andy.

"She's a very fine actress and she'd like to have a go-round with the stage here herself."

"Way, anyway," said Andy. "I borrowed $1,000, paid $400 down payment on a car, bought some brochures tellin' what we did, took a house with an extra room for practicin' — and do you know, in two days, we got our first job!"

"But we did get down to $3 once."

"What did you do for money?" I asked.

"I had an extension put on my car . . . and I opened a charge account at the grocery. We had company comin' that night for supper."

But things picked up, Andy made a recording in a Dixieland Herb Shriner kind of way, titled, "What It Was—It Was Football." What it sold phenomenally, and he was soon hired in night clubs and able to pay back the $1,000 lent him by two neighbors at Mt. Airy, N.C.

"One was Jim Yokely, he's dead now," Andy said. "I was sorry we were going to have to give the farmers."

Equally distressing is the cross-fire over the natural gas issue.

Powerfully arrayed on one side are Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is throwing his support to Stevenson, and Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson. The two potent Texans are spearheading the drive to enact legislation overriding the Supreme Court's decision that the Federal Power Commission has regulatory authority over natural gas in interstate commerce. Rayburn put this bill through the House last session, and Johnson is set to do the same thing in the Senate soon after it reconvenes in January.

Both have bluntly told Stevenson to keep out of this fight. He takes a stand on the issue, but that he assail the pending measure.

The following vividly illustrates exactly how uncomfortable Stevenson's position is:

Senator Clinton Anderson (N.M.), former Secretary of Agriculture, member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, a leader of the Farm Bureau Federation, largest of the agricultural organizations, and one of the first to come out for Stevenson, has written him sternly warning against advocating rigid 90 per cent parity price supports. Anderson argues that no elections have been won by favoring this, and cites a number of instances to prove this claim.

Directly opposite advice is coming from Senator Hubert Humphrey, also an Agriculture Committeeman, and leader of the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer Labor Party, which is militantly supporting Stevenson in that state. Humphrey has also written him vigorously insisting that he declare for the rigid price supports which Anderson opposes. Wrote Humphrey, "Farmers want 90 per cent of parity until something better can be found. If we are to carry the farm . . . But other important Stevenson supporters not only are demanding belt in 1956, that is exactly what made to him, he had just died two months before."

Andy plays a mountaineer youth called Will Stockdale, and, says Andy, "Will Stockdale is as real as anything to me."

Andy got acquainted with him while teaching and while working in a furniture factory where his father's worked since he was 12, in the machine room "where they do most of the cuttin' out."

"I don't feel Will Stockdale's a real backwoods," Andy said. "He's naive and unknowing about a lot of things, of course . . ."

For example, his first day in the Army, Will Stockdale hears the bugler blow "Taps."

"Lissen!" he says, sitting up excitedly. "Somebody bring their trumpet!"

Andy says, "Will's heard a trumpet sometime on the radio on his porch. That's about all he knows about it."

Such expressions as "Ah did don't know" fall rather naturally from Andy's lips. Another one he likes is, "How ya come on?" Then there's "That'll git it," or "That'll flat git it." A Carolina comedian, Dave Gardner, uses this expression so frequently that they call him "Flat Git It Gardner."

Margaret Truman and Charles Laughton and other such celebrities have come backstage to congratulate Andy on his elevation to stardom. He greets them modestly and quietly, for he's not a demonstrative fellow.

"In them little bitty towns, people don't show their emotions much," Andy says. "The only time they ever saw my grandfather kiss my grandmother was the day he died. He just got up out of his deathbed and went over 'n' kissed her. They don't say 'I love you,' and they don't hug and kiss and all like that."

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . . "DON'T PRINT THAT!" When ever one of H'wood's top singers gets loaded, he goes home and plays his records on his hi-fi set—at maximum volume . . . A young vocalist, divorcing her husband, fired her accountant 'cause he couldn't find anything wrong with her husband's books.

The Ed Wynnes' reconciliation failed; she'll get the divorce . . . MGM wants to sign Audrey Meadows . . . Writer Sherry Cloth, a husky male, is tired of newspaper stories calling him Sherry North. Happened again in a recent Variety.

Mrs. Richard Rodgers has one superstition — she wears a gray dress to all her husband's openings . . . Joe Franklin's getting together some old-time songwriters for a vaudeville act. Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy celebrate their 15th ann'y next month.

Zsa Zsa Gabor's agent is trying to sign her for records, as a singer . . . Guy Lombardo's contract at the Roosevelt Grill allows him time off to attend speedboat regattas . . . Stripper Lilly Christine gets to sing for the first time in Gypsy Rose Lee's "Strip for Action."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Eddie Davis' doctor warned him to cut down on his drinking — so he switched from Four Roses to Three Feathers.

Washington Report

CHICAGO — Adlai Stevenson is painfully learning that being out in front as a presidential candidate is a rough and hectic role.

He is being blasted if he does, and blasted if he doesn't.

The former Illinois Governor is ruefully telling Democratic chiefs attending the National Committee's pre-convention meeting here, that leading supporters are belligerently pulling him both ways on highly sensitive issues.

Graphic examples of his dilemma are the TNT-loaded questions of flexible vs. rigid farm price supports, and federal control over natural gas rates.

Stevenson has powerful backers on both sides of these political bombshells. Before throwing his hat into the ring, he was able to sidestep definite commitment with the explanation that he was still "studying" these controversies.

But now that he is an avowed candidate, he is caught squarely in the middle between his contending supporters.

The following vividly illustrates exactly how uncomfortable Stevenson's position is:

Senator Clinton Anderson (N.M.), former Secretary of Agriculture, member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, a leader of the Farm Bureau Federation, largest of the agricultural organizations, and one of the first to come out for Stevenson, has written him sternly warning against advocating rigid 90 per cent parity price supports. Anderson argues that no elections have been won by favoring this, and cites a number of instances to prove this claim.

Directly opposite advice is coming from Senator Hubert Humphrey, also an Agriculture Committeeman, and leader of the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer Labor Party, which is militantly supporting Stevenson in that state. Humphrey has also written him vigorously insisting that he declare for the rigid price supports which Anderson opposes. Wrote Humphrey, "Farmers want 90 per cent of parity until something better can be found. If we are to carry the farm . . . But other important Stevenson supporters not only are demanding belt in 1956, that is exactly what we are going to have to give the farmers."

Equally distressing is the cross-fire over the natural gas issue.

Powerfully arrayed on one side are Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is throwing his support to Stevenson, and Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson. The two potent Texans are spearheading the drive to enact legislation overriding the Supreme Court's decision that the Federal Power Commission has regulatory authority over natural gas in interstate commerce. Rayburn put this bill through the House last session, and Johnson is set to do the same thing in the Senate soon after it reconvenes in January.

Both have bluntly told Stevenson to keep out of this fight. He takes a stand on the issue, but that he assail the pending measure.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IT'S TOUGH for an honest cabbie to eke out a living in New York. Bob Sylvester tells about a Kentucky matron who left her pocketbook, stuffed with currency, in a taxi. The driver suddenly appeared in the store she had entered, and gave her the bag. Gratiated, she rewarded him with a $10 tip. But when he returned to his vehicle, he found it plastered with a $15 parking ticket.

Neil Dirks, of The Progressive Farmer, produces evidence that many a journalist has had a little pun with the naming of a budding newspaper. The college daily at Mississippi Southern, for instance, is called The Student Printz. In Arkansas, you'll find De Queen Bee in De Queen, The Echo in Yellville, and The Hot Springs Rub-Down in the famous health resort, Hot Springs. The Derrick operates in Oil City, Pennsylvania, and The Epitaph dishes out the news in Tombstone, Arizona.

Adam and Eve were undoubtedly the first bookkeepers. They invented the loose-leaf system.

Sermon Series to be Continued at Community

The second in a series of sermons on the "Questions Jesus Asked" will be given Sunday morning at the Community Church of Palm Springs.

This Sunday Dr. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor, will preach on "Were there not ten cleansed?" but where are the Nine?" The services are held at 11 a.m. with a duplicate service at 9:30 a.m. The Chancel Choir under the direction of Elmer Young will bring the special music.

A nursery is held for the care of small children with a trained nurse in attendance. This service is from 9:30 until noon.

There are Sunday School classes for all age groups with graded lessons in each department. Every department has a staff of consecrated workers and the attendance is increasing each Sunday.

Today, the Sunday School is having Open House beginning at 6:30. All are welcome to come and visit the various departments, the teachers and view the material used in the Sunday School. Following Open House the film, "Workers Together With God," will be shown at 7:30 in the church sanctuary. At this time the Chancelers Youth Choir will sing two numbers "God's Love and Bless This House." Visitors and guests are invited to this service.

Monday evening at 8, Dr. Blackstone will show his pictures that he took on his recent trip to Europe. He and his family toured Europe in a Volkswagen and had the opportunity to take many interesting pictures. The public is cordially invited. At 6:30 there will be a pot luck dinner held in the church social hall. Reservations for this dinner must be made through the church office.

Thanksgiving 'Art' is Sunday's Topic

The Rev. Douglas Jones Bintliff has chosen "The Art of Thanksgiving" for his pre-Thanksgiving Sunday Science of Mind lecture at the Religious Science Church which meets in the Youth Center, 386 Belardo Road, at 8:15 p.m.

The minister will discuss a neglected phase of Thanksgiving, which he will explain has become lost during the years.

The public is invited to attend. Rev. Bintliff may also be heard at 9:15 a.m. over KCMJ.

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

Every year at Thanksgiving I like to talk about the "attitude of gratitude." This is one of the most dramatically creative attitudes one may develop. After I had explained it in a radio broadcast last year a man came to me and said that the phrase interested him and asked how in a practical sense it could help him.

"I have nothing to be grateful for," he said despondently. "Everything is going badly. I'm just about all washed up." So ran his dismal complaint.

It was evident that his mind was filled with shadowy negativisms. This mental discoloration was, of course, causing his defeat. So, using a technique I had tried successfully on people many times before, I got out a big sheet of paper. On one side I wrote, "Things which make me unhappy." And on the other I wrote, "Things which make me happy."

THEN I SAID, "First I want you to write down in this column all the things which make you unhappy and in the other all that give you happiness."

He remarked that he had plenty of material for the unhappy column but nothing for the other side. Finally he finished writing a long list of woes and turned the paper over.

"Let's practice that attitude of gratitude now," I told him, "and make a list of your reasons for thanksgiving. What have you to be grateful for?" I asked.

"Not a thing," he answered.

"Can you see out of both of your eyes?"

"Certainly," he said, a little annoyed.

"Some people can't," I responded. "So write down: 'Can see—both eyes.'"

HE WROTE IT DOWN and then I asked him about his ears. "Oh," he said, "I've only fifty percent hearing in my left ear."

"All right, write it down—'one hundred and fifty percent hearing.'"

Then I went on to ask him about his nose, mouth, arms, fingers and the rest of his body, pointing out finally that we had not exhausted the reasons for thanksgiving in his own body, to say nothing of being thankful for his country, his home, sunlight, moonlight, food, etc.

"O.K.," he said with a grin. "I've got the idea; you can stop now."

"Take that paper home with you," I advised, "and go on with your listings. You'll find lots more for which you can be grateful."

I received a letter from him some months later. "I've finished that other side," he wrote, "and now I'm crossing out things on the negative side. I wouldn't have believed it possible, but my whole life has been changed by the practice of the attitude of gratitude."

TRY IT AT YOUR own Thanksgiving Dinner this next Thursday. Give each one a paper and pencil and ask them to list the things for which they should be grateful; or ask each one in turn to orally mention all his reasons for gratitude. See if it doesn't raise their spirits and improve their dispositions. Since each one will have to say he is thankful for the others, it will deepen the love of all for all, and bind the loved ones more closely together. Such attitude will make for efficiency too in the days that follow.

If you practice this approach to living daily, it will add to your clarity of mind, increase your force of personality and build a strength of character you have never enjoyed before.

The New York subways carried a Bible Society poster one Thanksgiving. It read simply, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits. (Psalm 103)." I wonder how many of the millions of people who saw that really understood how penetrating a message it is? It will lift discouragement and depression from your mind to affirm that health-giving passage every day. It can revamp your attitude toward your job, toward people and help you to live with joy and enthusiasm.

Certainly we Americans have every reason to practice the attitude of gratitude. Our ancestors who began the practice of national thanksgiving realized that it is good for the soul of a nation humbly to thank God for His blessings. They also knew that a positive attitude in the national mind will keep the people alert and creative. So this Thanksgiving Day, let's practice the attitude of gratitude.

Special Service by Scientists Set for Nov. 24

The Thanksgiving service of the Christian Science church includes a Lesson-Sermon particularly prepared for the occasion on the subject "Thanksgiving."

Thanksgiving Proclamations by the President of the United States, or by the Governor of the State, or both, will be read as a part of the service.

After the opening Scriptural reading, prayer, and hymns, the sermon will commence with the Golden Text from Psalms (97:12): "Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of His holiness."

Among the Bible selections are these words of Paul to the Corinthians, "But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound toward you" (II Cor. 9:6-8).

"Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God," reads a correlative passage from "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. It continues, "Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings" (p. 15).

A period will be set aside for the giving of testimonies by Christian Scientists appropriate for the occasion.

'Soul and Body' is Sunday Topic

"Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name," sings the Psalmist in the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" in all Christian Science churches Sunday. Psalms (103:1).

The need to glorify God in our body as well as in our soul and spirit is accentuated by Jesus when he healed the man with the withered hand. Luke's Gospel (6:8,10) relates that he commanded the man to "Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. . . . And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he so: and his hand was restored whole as the other."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "Like the great Exemplar, the healer should speak to disease as one having authority over it, leaving Soul to master the false evidences of the corporeal senses and to assert its claims over mortality and disease." "Man is harmonious when governed by Soul" (pp. 395, 273).

Along with Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Redd Harper, Les Barnett, Tim Spencer, and many others in the movie capital, who witness to a spiritual awakening—McGill is a member of the Hollywood Christian Group, and serves as field representative as he travels about the country.

Thanksgiving Is Topic of Thursday Broadcast

"Thanksgiving" is the subject of a Christian Science program to be given on Columbia's "Church of the Air" over KNX on Sunday, November 20, at 7:30 a.m.

Christian Liberty to be Sermon at Our Savior's

"Christian Liberty" will be the topic of the Rev. LeRoy Hass at Sunday's service of Our Savior's Lutheran Church at the American Legion hall.

On the basis of Scripture, the pastor will present Luther's two seemingly contradictory statements: A Christian man is a perfectly free lord of all subject to none; a Christian man is a perfectly dutiful servant of all, subject to all.

On Tuesday evening, at 7:30 p.m. the ladies group will meet at the home of Mrs. Orville Zappe in Cathedral City. Mrs. Reed, Whittier, of the District Lutheran Women's Missionary League, will address the group on the functions and purpose of the LWML, an auxiliary organization of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

The League's objective is to develop and maintain a greater mission consciousness among the women of the Synod through a three-fold program of Missionary Education, Missionary Inspiration and Missionary Service.

Through its voluntary contributions, the LWML has greatly aided in building a Lutheran center in Japan, a Lutheran church in Mexico, a church in Hawaii, a hospital in India, a chapel for the deaf in Cleveland, a chapel in "Little Mexico" in Los Angeles, and has also supplied funds for building retreat homes for missionaries in the Philippines, Japan, Brazil and Argentina.

The Thanksgiving service of Our Savior's will be celebrated at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, at the Legion hall.

On Sunday evening, December 4, the ladies group will show the film, "Martin Luther," at 6 p.m., at the Legion hall. The showing is open to the public.

Las Posadas Now Playing at Padua

Mexican Players' annual production of the play "Las Posadas" which in 24 consecutive years has become an important Yuletide event in Southern California, opened at the Padua Hills Theater this week and will be shown six times weekly until January 7.

Unusual, authentic customs of Mexico reflect the home life of a Mexican family on Christmas Eve. These include building the "nacimiento" or family shrine; the traditional "Las Posadas" candlelight processional; and breaking of the "pinata" in a joyous holiday fiesta. Dialogue in English is by Agnes Emelie Peterson. It tells how the blind faith of a little child turns a distressing situation into an occasion for a gay celebration. The child's dream of The Nativity is in the form of a Coloquio, or Shepherd's Play.

Songs in Spanish, used in "Las Posadas" are among the most beautiful of Mexico's Christmas songs. They were collected from the boyhood of one of the Mexican Players, and recorded and preserved by Padua Institute.

"Los Posadas" is staged Wednesday through Saturday evenings and at Wednesday and Saturday matinees. An after-theater party called "Merienda" follows each performance.

DUNCAN HINES CONCEDES: WOMEN TOP COOKS

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Duncan Hines, a famous food expert, says he can fry eggs pretty well and broil steaks occasionally, but his wife does most of the cooking in his household.

Hines disagreed with the notion that men are better cooks than women. "My wife is a wonderful cook, and I think most women do the job better than most men," he said.

A crumb pie crust will hold together better if it is chilled in the pan for 24 hours before the filling is added.

Guild's Fashion Luncheon First of Holiday Affairs

The true spirit of Christmas will prevail in decorations for the fabulous holiday fashion show to be held at El Mirador Tuesday. Sponsored by the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild, the fashion show luncheon will be the first party of the season to highlight the coming yuletide, introducing a number of Christmas designs in the individual centerpieces.

The decorations will be done by Ruth Allen of Los Angeles, who has already established a reputation here for her dramatic decorations each January for the Guild's Sponsors' Ball.

Tuesday will also see another innovation. For when the Playhouse Guild members give their fabulous fashion show, they will not only fill the huge El Mirador Room to overflowing with lovely ladies, but they will have an all-male section known as the "Whistle Table."

For the first time men will be able to view the gowns their wives soon are to wear. These "dapper duns" of the Village have formed their own section for the fashion showing, and will be sitting in the upper bar at the entrance to the dining room.

Among those at the "Whistle Table" will be: Mayor Florian Boyd, George Cameron, Jack Wheeler, Fred Haliday, Jimmy Cooper, George Wheeler, Franklyn MacCarthy, Harold Hicks, Robert Kessler, Ward Risvold, Frank Bogert, Arnold Runwell, Belmont Sanchez, C. C. Hutchens, Ray Corliss, Russell Wade, Ed Robbin, William E. White, David Margolis, George Beebe, Commander Reginald Venable, Barney Geggenbach, Ed McCoubrey, Billy Malouf, Ray Ryan, Monte Herbert, Jack Luccarelli, S. P. Manasse, Sol Lesser, and others. Joan McManus assembled this group.

Mrs. William Malouf, chairman of the fashion show who brought Edith Small here to display her Spring collection, will have as luncheon guests: Mmes. Jack French, Fred Albertson, John Stauffer, Lewis Kingsley, Oliver Rousseau, Ted Smith, Charles Schausner, Thomas Malouf and Florian Boyd.

One of the first groups to get their table together for the fashion show was a group from Thunderbird Country Club. That table has as co-hostesses Mrs. Belmont Sanchez and Mrs. Dolph Obergfel. In the group will be: Mmes. Robin Barnes, J. Ross Clarke, J. W. Carter, Janice Chiquino, Kenneth Evans, George Dulany, Joseph Dyer, Emily DeWare, Adolf Brenner, Joseph Froggatt, Walter Funston, Ben Gale, Sally Eilers, Morse, Eleanor Kane, Judy Howard, George M. Holstein, Richard Long, Betty Townsend, L. L. Oakes, Paul Prom, Glenn Thomas, Dick Edwards, Ruth Hardy, Oliver Morse, S. P. Manasse, Harry Weimer, James Tuma, Marcelita Boles McCullough, Oliver Jaynes and Monte Herbert.

Mrs. Tom Holland has invited as her guests, Mmes. Claud Freeman, Glen Watson, Walter Yeaton, Merrill Crockett, Daniel McCauley and Grace Sternberg.

A no-host table will include Mmes. Russell Wade, William Tomberlin, C. C. Hutchens, Ed Thrasher, Marguerite Trousdale and George Barrett.

Dorothy Gray Brown has invited Mmes. Lester Selig, Edwin Silverman, Sidney Schiff, Milton Port, Jack Meiselman, Lloyd Simon, Lawrence Davidson and Sadye Collier. Seated with Mrs. Gwynne (Mary) Hurrell will be Mmes. Sam Salinger, Howard Morris, A. R. Simon and her mother, Mrs. A. Finsterwald, Asher Levy, Alfred A. Strauss, Lee Frank, Alfred A. Epstein, Maurice Horner and Carl Soderberg.

Mrs. George Wheeler will preside at a table including Mmes. O. E. L. Graves, Franklyn MacCarthy, Alexander Marcuse, Muriel Fulton, Fred Haliday, Ray Gannon, Austin McManus, Grace McManus, Terry Ray and Cub Parker. Mrs. W. F. Schlotman is making up a party of nine.

Those wishing tickets for the fashion show may call Mrs. S. P. Manasse, 3352, or Mrs. George Wheeler, 3390, co-chairmen of arrangements.

GIVE FRUIT CAKES TIME TO RIPEN

Fruit cake baking like Christmas should be done early. October and November are the accepted months to make fruit cakes so they'll have several weeks to ripen before they are cut.

Rich fruit cakes cut better and have a more delicious flavor after they've been stored for a few weeks. Wrap them in moisture-vapor proof material and store them in a cool place. Do not refrigerate or freeze them until they have been well aged first.

BREAK UP THE WORK

Busy homemakers make their fruit cake baking easier by dividing it into three parts which may be done on three different days. The first part is selecting the recipe and doing the shopping.

The second is preparing the fruits and nuts and lining the pans for the baking. The last part is putting the cake together, baking it, cooling and wrapping it for aging.

LITTLE TRIMMING NEEDED

Luscious fruit cakes, loaded with chunks of bright candied fruits and crisp nut meats need little trimming. Each slice is a picture in itself.

To make a simple trim before the cake is baked, arrange a pattern of candied fruits on top of the batter and press it in gently. When the cake is almost done, brush the top with light corn syrup which has been brought to a full boil. Then, after the cake has been cooled you

The head-piece also is decorated with rhinestones, pearls or other stones.

To wash jewel-trimmed neckwear and gloves without damage, shake them in a jar half-filled with warm sudsy water. Use the same method in rinsing and dry them on a towel. Touch up with a steam iron.

Big event of the coming week will be Tuesday's showing of the Edith Small collection . . . "Dreams Come True" . . . at El Mirador . . . It should be a spectacle-sized affair . . . and raises money for the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild . . .

Fashion shows are no longer just for women . . . and more and more men-about-town are showing up at style luncheons . . . To encourage their attendance . . . the Playhouse Guild has arranged a "Whistle Table" in the lounge bar . . . in a strategic location . . . where they can watch the show from a safe distance . . . and may be buy a pre-luncheon cocktail for their best girls . . .

There was lots to talk about this past weekend . . . when Colonel and Mrs. J. Mortimer Clark of San Francisco . . . spent the weekend at the John Munholland home in Las Palmas . . . The Colonel, who is retired now, and making a country-wide inspection trip . . . had charge of land acquisition for the War Department during the last war . . . including the El Mirador hotel deal . . . Munholland was Chief Appraiser under Clark, in the state of Arizona . . .

Bud and Vic Graves invited a few friends in for cocktails . . . one of those intimate affairs for which they are noted . . . and much of the conversation centered about Bud's newest paintings . . . Working toward a New York showing . . . Bud is painting a collection of abstracts . . . in his new technique . . . They are brilliant in color tones . . . and have depth . . .

A Christmas note to the gathering . . . was the arrival of Dorothy Gray Brown wearing her red sheared beaver coat . . . and Joan Berling in her white one . . .

Joan told me that she has rented the Ambrose house . . . up on the hill where they can hear Thunderbird calling . . . for three months or maybe longer . . . Frank is due out here to join her around February 1 . . . and Joan is hoping that he will like it so well that they will start construction of their own house . . . located up in the Crosby-Gable area . . .

Dorothy was wearing those new diamond-and-gold earrings . . . that Harry Joe bought for her in New York . . . for a first anniversary present . . . They are a perfect match for her diamond and sapphire ring . . . that is pretty fabulous . . . Harry Joe, who has been under the weather . . . as who hasn't in the Big Town? . . . was due in that night . . .

Enjoying the Graves' hospitality and the conversation were . . . George and Micky Wheeler, Maury and Louise Horner (she in a smartly slim Chinese gown) and their houseguests . . . Dolly Marcuse, Irene Simonsen, Rose Mints . . . The Burnham Bigelows and Sydney and Evelyn Schiff . . . Sydney was being blamed for bringing a sample of Chicago weather West with him . . .

The Polo Club will hold its first meeting of the season . . . tomorrow night . . . at the clubhouse at the Polo Grounds . . . with new president Jack Kenaston presiding . . .

Ralph Wilcox Taylor went to Los Angeles yesterday . . . to accompany Mrs. Herbert Stinchfield to the opening of the Sadlers' Wells Ballet . . . and to the Ballet Ball afterwards . . .

If you have been at the Racquet Club these past few nights . . . chances are you were among those listening to Dick Haymes trying out songs with his musical arranger and accompanist, Jan Bernard . . . Haymes is vacationing at the Club . . .

Speed seems to keynote the lives of even Palm Springs younger executives . . . or maybe they just can't bear to be away longer . . . Off to San Francisco the other night . . . to discuss the decor of their new Atherton residence with Northern California socialites Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bonesteel Jr. . . . Arthur Elrod was back in the Village the next day . . . Airlift certainly minimizes the miles . . .

Cartoonist Jim Swinnerton Feted on His 80th Birthday

A scintillating party was the one given at the Tennis Club Thursday evening, when Miss Muriel Fulton and Mrs. Austin McManus feted noted newspaper artist Jimmy Swinnerton on his 80th birthday.

In the pre-dinner hour, Miss Fulton gathered her guests around the fireplace in the Spur and Sable Room at La Paz. Here before the cheerful blaze of a welcome fire and a festive canape table, she welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Omaha, Walter Seeley (Los Angeles artist), Mrs. Harold Bell Wright, Ralph Wilcox Taylor, Mrs. Lena Keating, Jack Linthicum, Grace McManus, George Shaw, Mrs. Austin McManus and Mr. and Mrs. Swinnerton.

Highlight of the cocktail party, was an unusual gift presented to Mr. Swinnerton by Miss Fulton. It was an 1897 newspaper with a front page cartoon by Swinnerton, who is the dean of American cartoonists.

From the La Paz the party progressed to the Tennis Club, where Mrs. McManus was dinner hostess. Carrying out the Club's pink and black motif, the hostess decorated the tables with bougainvillea and large red candles.

Between dining and dancing, the group was treated to many wonderful stories by the guest of honor, whose wit has only improved with the years. His biggest chuckle was trying to remember how many people, mostly doctors, had sent him to the California desert to die.

His birthday speech closed a memorable evening. Recalling the days when Palm Springs had only a handful of settlers and 34 Indians he said sagely, "We had to stick together in those days to survive."

Luncheon Bridge

Mrs. Lee Frank was hostess at a pleasant luncheon in the Garden Room at the Racquet Club on Tuesday.

Guests for the occasion, which included an afternoon of bridge, were Mmes. Walter Frank, Lloyd Simon, George Frank, Milton Portis, Sayde Collier, Alexander Marcuse and Mrs. Paul Cushing.

A GAY DINNER PARTY for around 100 guests celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Ralph Singer Thursday evening at Thunderbird. Pictured at the party, rated among the best of the season,

Celebrates Birthday for 99th Time

Flowers and telegrams, letters and cards poured into the J. L. Havener home at 273 Palo Verde this week as Mrs. Havener's mother, Dove Ann Allen, celebrated her 99th birthday. On Sunday, 17 members of the family gathered for a buffet luncheon honoring the matriarch, and on Tuesday the Haveners held open house in her honor.

The alert little old lady recited a poem for her guests, which started "I'd rather have one little rose, from the garden of a friend, than to have the choicest flowers, when my stay on earth shall end."

Mrs. Allen was born in Clarke County, Arkansas on November 15, 1856. When she was 21 she married William Bethel Allen, a lumberman, and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary before he died in 1929. They came to California in 1904 and Mrs. Allen was living in Anaheim before she came to Palm Springs three years ago.

Here to help celebrate his mother's birthday was William W. Allen of Monte Rio, California.

Mrs. Allen, who has seen so many changes in her lifetime is looking forward to observing her 100th birthday next year.

Besides her son and daughter, she has four grandchildren, Lee Allen Havener of San Bernardino, Barbara Hogg of Honolulu, Hugo Burgwald of Pasadena, and William Bethel Allen II of San Francisco, and seven great grandchildren. Emily DeWare of Thunderbird is a great niece.

(Gayle Studio Photo)

NINETY NINE YEARS of living and loving, working and playing, and raising a family were celebrated this week by Dove Ann Allen, mother of Mrs. J. L. Havener of 273 Palo Verde, who was looking particularly charming on her 99th birthday.

James Explains Process of Ore Reduction Plant

THOUSAND PALMS — Clifford James, co-owner of the ore reduction plant that is currently before the county board of supervisors for a permit for construction, told the Desert Sun today that construction of the plant has only been started to the extent of roadbeds and laying of water pipe lines.

Construction of the building will get underway only after the permit is issued, he added.

SUPERVISOR HOMER Varner, who has called for a hearing on the proposed plant, notified James that he could talk with members of the board of supervisors Tuesday. Whether any action will be taken at that time is not known, but it is theorized that a date for a hearing will be set.

The plant, which will be located about two miles from the intersection of Ramon Road and Highway 99, will be the only one of such plants in the valley.

In explaining the operation of the plant, James said that "the particular grinding process is noiseless unless you are in the building itself, and that there is no dust or other air pollution. The industry runs on electric current."

Mrs. John G. Hill entertained Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Carter of Worcester, Massachusetts, for several days. Mrs. Hill, her houseguest, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Snow and Mrs. Eleanor Germeaux attended the formal opening of the SMC last Friday evening. Mrs. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Carter have left for the Grand Canyon. From there the Carters will go on East.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown entertained Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Smith and their daughter, Marney, over the weekend. The Browns hosted a party of 12 at the S.M.C. formal opening. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Rudd Hackborn were also in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holt were given a "surprise" 40th wedding anniversary by their daughter and son-in-law, Doree and Kenneth Kauffmann, Saturday night. These young people came down from their home in Tehachapi for the occasion. Other guests were Sally and Chuck Yates and Guy and Carol Eldridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Evans were here over the weekend, spending most of their stay with Sally and Chuck Yates. Bill Evans was the "master-mind" for the landscaping of Disneyland!

The big social event of the week was the formal opening of Shadow Mountain Club, Friday, November 11. This was, as usual, a gala event and marks the opening of the winter season in Palm Desert. If good music, an excellent floor show and beautifully gowned ladies makes a gay party, this was truly one of the best! The guests included the Ray Russells, Ralph Rollins, Hugh Cuttings, Dr. Hayes, Mrs. Edna Value, the F. Mitchells, the L. C. Cotners, Cliff Henderson, the Kenneth Eckerts, Adrian Schwilks, George Flemings, Thomas Wenkers, Charles Milliken, Col. Ellsworth and party, Joseph Hughes and party, Col. Westerfield, Fred Siemra and party, and hundreds of others.

The W. Richard Smith wedding at the Palm Desert Community Church on Sunday was of regional interest. Many out-of-town guests of the wedding event were guests at Shadow Mountain Terrace. Included were Mrs. Helen D. Smith of Phoenix, mother of the groom; Mr. H. R. Streit and family of Los Angeles (son James, jet-pilot, was best man at the wedding); Reg Raikes of Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Warnock of San Marino and their daughter with her friend Lauri Smith; and Mr. and Mrs. Bert D. Fineg, close friends of the groom.

Besides Dick Smith and his new bride at the Terrace, two couples who spent their honeymoons there not too long ago have been back for a visit: Bob and Joan Reilly of Los Angeles, and Mickey and Daf Peters.

Sports Sputterings

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

THEY'LL BE getting ready to vote in that Heisman Memorial Trophy Award competition soon and here's a nod for Ohio State's Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy.

The award, which will be the 21st coming up, is given annually to the "Outstanding College Football Player of the U.S." by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York and the voting list numbers 1,775 including this reporter.

Our vote will go to Cassidy, for it is our opinion that he has been one helluva football player for the Buckeyes over a period of four seasons.

What Hoppy will do as a pro football player remains to be seen, but certainly he has left his mark on Buckeye football records, a mark which goes back to Chick Harley's day for excellence.

EVERYONE loves a breakaway runner in football and the Columbus, Ohio, Irishman with the cowboy name is just that.

In four years, prior to his last two games of the season, Cassidy had scored 33 touchdowns, an all-time Ohio State record, and in all types of ball carrying he had gained over 4,200 yards.

He set the stage in his first game as a freshman when he rambled for three touchdowns against Indiana.

IN OHIO STATE'S long and glamorous history of football, only Harley, Wes Fesler and Ed Hess rate in the "great" department with Cassidy. Harley and Fesler were three-time All-Americans and Hess a two-time pick. Cassidy is a cinch bet to make this year's team, so he will be a two-timer.

Cassidy's chances of winning the Heisman award, the top post-season honor in collegiate football, are very good.

Certainly he is the country's most consistent outstanding back. And the record shows that the award goes, with few exceptions, to a back. In the 20 selections thus far, 18 winners were backs.

Previous Ohio State Heisman winners were Les Horvath and Vic Janowicz. Only Notre Dame, with four winners, would top Ohio if Cassidy gets the honor.

IT'S INTERESTING to note what has happened to the Heisman winners in pro football.

The record, actually, is good. For such previous winners as Alan Ameche (1954), Janowicz, Leon Hart, Doak Walker, Johnny Lujack and Glenn Davis, just to name a few recent ones, did all right in the pro ranks.

Some didn't enter pro football, but became successes in business.

Quick Tops Field in Gardena Open

GARDENA — Smiley Quick paced the second round qualifiers today in the Gardena Valley-Western Avenue Open following his record shattering 62 with two eagles in the opening round.

The veteran golfer who has won the U.S. Publican crown, scored a 32-30 round on the par 35-35 course yesterday to gain first round honors in the tournament. Quick's score bettered his own course record by a single stroke.

Jim Ferrier, of Lakeside, and Zell Eaton, of Los Serranos, each shot 65 to tie for second in the qualifying round. Close behind Bob Duden, Portland, Oregon, Dick Lundahl, Annandale, Florida, Bill Casper, San Diego, and Jack Lebovitz, North Hollywood, pro.

Lebovitz was the first player in the tourney to bag a hole-in-one, using a seven iron on the 10th hole.

Redlegs to Open Against Cardinals

CINCINNATI, Ohio, — The Cincinnati Redlegs will meet the St. Louis Cardinals here April 17 in the traditional National League baseball opening game, it was announced today.

The Reds, oldest team in professional baseball, are granted the courtesy each year of being host to the first National League game. The American League traditionally opens its season in Washington.

The home schedule calls for 37 night games, 24 with teams which finished in the first division in 1955. Eight night games are with the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers, six with the New York Giants, and five are scheduled with Milwaukee, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh. The Chicago Cubs will play three night games here.

Indians Down San Jac 12-6

Cinch Third Spot in Loop with Victory

In spite of the determined effort of the referees and San Jacinto's Tigers, Palm Springs' Indians last night won their season-closing game, 12-6, and grabbed third place in Riverside County League football standings.

Four Friday's ago the Indians were one slot out of the cellar. Last night's tussle on the mountain city gridiron featured more paradoxes than a Shakespearean play. For all the heart shown by the members of the two teams, football ignorance by referees overbalanced it.

ONE OF THE PARENTS who drove from the Village to watch their son's schoolmates perform—there were more than 200 students and 150 parents rooting for the winners—said he exerted masterful self control in not throwing the stands at them.

For all the fine playing by both teams, the breaks decided the game to a large extent. The Tigers were on the Indians two yard line with two downs to go but couldn't make it. It was the gun signifying half time that stopped them, not the Palm Springs defensive wall.

AS THE THIRD QUARTER drew to a close, two 15-yard penalties put the Tiger in possession on the Palm Springs' 16. Then a pass was thrown into the end zone Mickey Pellum, defending his goal, climbed all over the intended receiver, and the ball was placed on the one yard line, as per the rules. But instead of maintaining use of the rule books, the officials called fourth down, goal to go. It should have been first down, goal to go. A quarterback sneak was halted, and the gun sounded.

When the teams traded ends of the field, the referees had been notified of their error, and gave the ball to San Jacinto, second and goal. They had failed to notify the coaches, and Ballagh had sent in his offensive group, thinking the ball to be in their possession.

SO THE TIGERS evened up the score in the last quarter. Then host fans shot out of the bleacher seats in rapture as Larry Rodriguez' conversion kick put them in the lead. A deadly pall blanketed their enthusiasm, however, as an off-side penalty was called and the kick was attempted, and missed from the seven-yard-line.

This column went on record yesterday as giving the Indians a predicted sunny side of a 28-20 score. That's a six point margin, as is 12-6. This column is peeved at the officials for keeping the score so low and ruining the perfection of the forecast.

So is Scott Thompson, assistant coach of the Indians. Maybe his forecast was fouled up by them.

THE GAME was a hassle all the way, with both eleven pouring out everything they had. Coaches Clare Ballagh of Palm Springs, and Bruce Munro each had their lads in top shape for the final curtain game.

Ballagh's boys, playing out of a double wing "T" for the first time this season, started their jarring, rugged little stabs at the Tiger line late in the first quarter. When they changed ends of the field, they had compiled a total of 85 yards gained in what seemed like as many plays, and struck it rich for first blood. Too bad about Manuel Montoya's attempted extra point run.

CIRCUMSTANCES were similar prior to the Tiger's tally. They drove a goody portion of the 69 yards it took to make their touchdown while still in the third quarter, but the plunge that made it so occurred in the last quarter. Too bad about Larry Rodriguez' two kicks, mentioned before.

With the tension at E-flat over high C pitch, (two pass interceptions and seven fumbles by them) the Indians whacked off 60 yards in nine plays to make their TD.

SHIFTY RUNNING by San Jacinto fullback Cliff Miranda, number 11, takes him by three tacklers from the Palm Springs squad. But Bill Beck, number 17, eventually pushed him out of bounds. End Larry Paul, 29, had just gotten off the ground from a block at the line of scrimmage and rushes to help Beck, a fullback. Game was tied 6-6 going into the last few minutes of play, when Indians romped through the Tiger line for the winning touchdown. Indian victory last night brought third place in Riverside County League to Palm Springs.

New Italian Speedsters to Race in City

Back from a Ferrari and Maserati car-buying spree in Italy, Tony Parravano, wealthy Ingleswood contractor, today announced he will enter one of the new sportsters in the ninth running of the Palm Springs road races December 3-4. Parravano is now in New York, whence he departs soon for Nassau to enter a Ferrari in the Nassau Speed Week, December 5-11. Among those driving for him there will be Carroll Shelby, the celebrated Texas pilot.

Parravano, who will not be here for the Palm Springs races, will name at least two local star drivers to handle the Italian powerhouses for him in the classic. At first it was thought one of them would be Jack McAfee, Manhattan Beach, but it was learned today the former Mexican road race driver is heading for Nassau.

THE SPONSORING California Sports Car Club has carded 12 races for Palm Springs—seven on Saturday; five, including the under and over 1500cc main events, on Sunday.

Some 300 U.S. and foreign sports cars, involving even more drivers, are almost a certainty for the Palm Springs races, scheduled for the 2.3-mile paved airport course. Entries close November 25. Among top Southern drivers giving it a whirl are Phil Hill, Ernie and Jack McAfee, Ferraris; Ken Miles, MG Special; Bill Murphy, Buick-Kurts; Bruce Kessler, Mercedes-Benz 300SL, and J. P. Kunstle, Porsche.

OTHER NAME PILOTS who already have turned in entries include Rudy Cleye, Mercedes-Benz 300SL; Johnny Forter, Porsche Spyder; James Orr, Devin Panhard, and W. R. Turner, Porsche Spyder.

The possibility still exists, too, that Stirling Moss, great English driver and member of the world champion Mercedes team, will race. He is now in the east and plans to head west within a week.

Bill Pollack, standout driver from Sherman Oaks who has been inactive for a few months, plans to resume competition at Palm Springs—providing he can "find a ride." His last action was aboard the Merc-powered Troutman-Barnes Special.

In spite of the wrath of the fans incurred by the referees, the coaches and team members knew they were doing their jobs, and well.

The prediction and the column were hurt more than anyone else.

MODERN GOLF

By DALE ANDREASON
Golf Instructor at El Mirador Hotel

Rhythm in walking. First, let us define rhythm. It is not a fast action nor is it slow. It is a smooth flowing action of all muscles working together as a unit.

There is a word that catches the eye more and more in sports these days; it is "rhythmic motion," which means the large muscles pushing and pulling the small with no wasted motion.

Let's talk about walking correctly using rhythmic motion. When playing 18 holes the average golfer walks approximately four miles. I am sorry to say that a good 75 percent of the golfers burn up twice the energy needed in walking their 18 holes.

THE AVERAGE GOLFER walks from the knee, thus making the calf of the leg push and pull the large muscle. In doing this the golfer takes approximately a 25 to 30 inch step.

To walk smoothly with rhythmic motion the golfer must concentrate on walking with the thigh muscle in control of the action. The thigh muscle in turn will push and pull the knee and the calf muscle which, in turn, works the foot.

The thigh muscle is easily the most powerful muscle in the human body. When in control it can carry the weight of the body easily, burning up very little energy. The stride will be closer to 45 inches so you can easily see that by working with the larger muscles of the body you have true rhythm or co-ordination.

YOU WILL ALSO NOTE that in walking in this correct manner that your heel hits the ground first and your weight moves toward the toe. This action is very helpful to the arch of the foot. You will notice that in walking from the knee the weight settles on the arch of the foot and the foot becomes tired very quickly.

Hold one hand across the lower part of the stomach and hold the other at the lower part of the back. Now concentrate on walking properly, stretching out with the thigh muscles. You will soon feel the lower back and stomach muscles being pushed and pulled, thus creating not only good tone and circulation in the muscles, but also in the organs of the body as well.

Fifth-ranked UCLA risks its Rose Bowl prestige today when it tackles Southern California in their televised "titanic" that is expected to lure 101,000 into Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum come hail, rain or high-water.

The "Broons" top the Pacific Coast Conference with a 5-0 mark but could slip to second place in the final standings if they were beaten by USC while Oregon State downed Oregon.

That would put the resurgent

Beavers on top with a 6-1 record and the conference brass would have to decree at Monday's voting which team deserved to play in the bowl. But UCLA bashed Oregon State 38-0 this year, which presumably should assure them the bid if a crisis developed.

Coach Red Sanders' single-wingers have been made a 10-point choice over Southern California.

In other traditional contests, Stanford and California clash for the 58th time with a crowd of 94,000 expected to turn out at Palo Alto while Oregon State junks to Oregon to play the Ducks in their 58th clash and Washington State invades Seattle to meet Washington for their 47th anniversary.

Stanford has been favored by 18 points over California and if they win, it will be the first time Coach Lynn Waldorf of the Bears has dropped a "Big Game" since he was hired in 1947. There have been two ties in Waldorf's regime and several near-upsets. The weather prophet says it will be clear before the kickoff. Rain would hurt California's chances more than ever, the experts say. Oregon has been made a six-point choice over Oregon State despite the Beavers' great showing this year and Stanford's 44-7 blasting of Oregon last week. About 25,000 are expected to see if Coach Tommy Prothro's new single-wing attack can compensate for the speed in the Oregon backfield. Washington, which lost a two-point heartbreaker to UCLA last Saturday, has been installed a 15 point pick over Washington State which doesn't have much left except a football.

IMAGINATION

The Spanish painter Salvador Dali wrote a play entitled The Wheelbarrow. When the director asked if he was also planning on designing the sets, Dali explained, "There will be no stage sets. The first act takes place on the right side of the stage and the public will have to imagine that a palace is there. The second act takes place on the left half of the stage, where the viewers will have to imagine a beach." Replied the director: "Then you, sir, will have to imagine an audience out there in front after the second performance."—Weltbild, Munich (Quote translation).

GETTING OLD? Think you're getting old? One Congressional Medal of Honor winner sure felt he was when he asked his oldest daughter what she was studying. "Oh," she replied, "we're studying right now about some guy by the name of Hitler." — Par's Pups.

Marquis James Dies Suddenly

RYE, N. Y., (AP) — Author Marquis James, 64, who twice won the Pulitzer prize for biography, died early today at his home here as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The Missouri-born writer was awarded the Pulitzer prize in 1930 for "The Raven," a biography of Sam Houston, and in 1938 for the second volume of "Andrew Jackson, Portrait of a President."

James began his career as a reporter on the Enid, Oklahoma Eagle, and worked as a reporter on papers in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, New Orleans and New York. He was director of publicity for the American Legion from 1919-23 and edited the American Legion Monthly from 1923-32. He also wrote for magazines and radio.

Mrs. Gilliland's Attorney Denies Property Claim

Wealthy oil heiress Mrs. Elsinore Machris Gilliland will appear in court November 30 to explain why she should not give her estranged husband $4,500 monthly temporary alimony pending a divorce trial.

The 66-year-old widow of George Machris, founder of the Wilshire Oil Co., was served with a court order at her home here yesterday following action by her husband, Ray Gilliland, 64.

Gilliland last month filed a divorce suit which charged his wife with cruelty and asked for division of $15,000,000 worth of community property.

The couple was married in Las Vegas in 1954 following a whirlwind courtship. In celebrating their wedding, the newlyweds gave a $35,000 party at a Hollywood night club.

Attorney William L. Murphy, dining at the Racquet Club Friday evening with his wife and his client Mrs. Gilliland, said "It is impossible for me to believe that Mr. Gilliland is so soon without funds adequate for his support and maintenance."

"There is no community property. All of Mrs. Gilliland's property is separate property, owned by her at time of marriage. There was no pre-marital oral agreement as claimed by Mr. Gilliland, and as demonstrated by the acts of the parties maintaining their respective properties, separate and distinct."

Murphy said that in a few days he will file a complete defense and, at the same time, cross file a suit for divorce charging, among other things, "mental cruelty."

Mrs. Gilliland had no statement to make.

Mrs. Dodge in Wild Fisticuffs in 3 Languages

BELOIT, Wis. (AP)—Mrs. Horace Dodge, wife of a multi-millionaire Detroit playboy, waged a fist-swinging battle with members of a troupe of Spanish dancers after a bar stool. The Spanish musician speaks no English, but he said through an interpreter that Mrs. Dodge had "insulted me in French."

Mrs. Dodge, known as Greg Sherwood on Broadway before her marriage to the heir to an automobile fortune, admitted saying some uncomplimentary things to Escudero. But, she said, he struck her first and she retaliated by yelling at him in French.

Joseph L. Schneider, assistant manager of the dancing troupe which gave a performance at Beloit College last night, said he hustled the performers out of the restaurant.

The additional shots brought the total to 12,442,437 the amount of vaccine released for children under 15 and expectant mothers. It was the seventh allocation made under the voluntary control system which started July 1.

He said Mrs. Dodge, visiting her parents at Beloit, followed him outside into the snow in her stocking feet.

Schneider said he picked her up and carried her back into the restaurant, then returned to his hotel.

Two American Priests Freed by Chinese Reds

HONG KONG, (AP) — Two American priests charged with spying and held in solitary confinement for two years by the Chinese Communists were set free today.

The Rev. Marcellus White of 4 Bemis Avenue, Waltham, Massachusetts, broke under the strain of his long confinement and wept for joy as he and the Rev. Martin Vincent Garvey of 1901 West Street, Union City, New Jersey, crossed the border to freedom.

RELEASE OF the two Roman Catholic priests of the Passionate Order brought to 22 the number of Americans freed from Red China since talks between U.S. and Communist Chinese envoys started at Geneva last August 1. At least 15 others still are held.

Both described their "trials" last October 29 as a "mockery" of justice.

Garvey said the Reds charged him with resisting the revolution, cooperating with the Nationalists

Smith Returns from National Loan Convention

William H. Smith, president of Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association in Palm Springs and Indio, and member of the board of directors for the California Savings and Loan League, has returned home after attending the 7-day annual convention of the United States Savings and Loan League at Miami.

About 3500 delegates, with an additional 500 observers, assembled in the large new municipal auditorium in Miami for a week of plenary and committee sessions.

AMONG THE HIGHLIGHTS, Smith said, were major addresses given at the full sessions by J. Howard Edgerton, president of the League, who has a home in the Village, and Walter McAllister, chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board, to which Coachella Valley Savings belong.

Edgerton reported on activities of the Savings and Loan industry, whose assets today have grown to the total of $5 billion dollars in the United States alone.

Smith was a member of the convention's public relations committee which recommended the advertising and public relations budget for the League.

AS FOR MIAMI itself, Smith pointed out that the city was beautifully equipped with great hotels and a magnificent auditorium—but of the private homes he saw, none, he felt, could compare with some of those in Palm Springs.

In Miami he heard a lecturer from the Chamber of Commerce say that, "the sun always shines in Miami." Nature was unkind, because the next two days it rained.

"Here in Palm Springs," Smith said, "we can feel a little more secure in bragging about the sun. What we need now are accommodations to stage such giant conventions as this one. When we have these facilities our town will become the center of the country for large convention business which creates so much revenue for the community."

More Polio Shots Made Available

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service has made 1,773,485 more Salk polio vaccine shots available to states, territories and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Some 32,000 shots were reserved for the foundation. The rest will be allocated to the states and territories for commercial and public use.

The additional shots brought the total to 12,442,437 the amount of vaccine released for children under 15 and expectant mothers. It was the seventh allocation made under the voluntary control system which started July 1.

Humphrey Tells 5-Point Program for Farm Surplus

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey today outlined a five-point program for solving the farm surplus problem.

The program, Humphrey explained, depends greatly on "prosperity for industry," because "its workers are his, the farmer's, customers."

The plan, which Humphrey called "the middle way" in a speech prepared for delivery before the 89th annual session of the National Grange, included:

1. Flexible price supports which "do not try futilely to repeal" the laws of supply and demand.
2. "Carefully planned restrictions of production."
3. Expanded research to find new crops and new uses for farm output.
4. Cautious selling of farm surpluses here and abroad, coupled with "strenuous efforts" to increase consumption everywhere.
5. "A dynamic program of soil conservation."

Beside what a positive program can do, Humphrey said the growing population "with three million more mouths to feed each year will eat into both limited current production and surplus at an amazing rate."

St. Theresa Wins Over Boys Club

St. Theresa's football team, playing their best game of the season, defeated the Boys Club eleven 19 to 0 yesterday afternoon.

Touchdowns were scored by Larry Sitter, who intercepted a Boys Club pass and ran 70 yards for six points; Eddie Poole, who plunged through the line for one foot, and Steve Manillo, who skirted over for 10 yards.

Two other touchdowns were called back.

St. Theresa's, coached by Mike Milling, will play St. Joseph's of Fontana on Sunday at the local school.

Chuck La Frantz is the Boys Club coach.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Heli-copters will fly members of the Cabinet and the National Security Council from Washington to a mountain retreat about 22 miles from Gettysburg, with the President Eisenhower next week, the White House announced today.

Mr. Eisenhower will meet Monday at Camp David, his Maryland mountain retreat about 22 miles from Gettysburg, with the National Security Council. He will meet the Cabinet at Camp David on Tuesday.

Camp David, the original "Shangri-La" of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is six miles west of Thurmont, Maryland, high in the Catoctin Mountains.

It began snowing before dawn.

Slowpokes to be Cited, is Warning

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Slow drivers were on notice today that if they persist in blocking the normal flow of traffic they will be arrested by the California Highway Patrol.

Ross R. McDonald, deputy patrol commissioner, said, "Enforcement action is necessary in the case of slow drivers blocking the normal flow of traffic and those motorists who persist in driving in the passing lane on multilane highways."

Huge Buzzard Attacks Farmer Protecting Flock

PARRACOMBE, England (AP)—A buzzard with a three-foot wing span today attacked a man who frustrated its attempt to breakfast on one of his chickens.

A. J. Hutchings, warden of the Parracombe Youth Hostel, said he heard a commotion in his chicken yard and ran out to see the buzzard taking off with the chicken clutched in its talons.

"I jumped at the buzzard," Hutchings said. "He dropped the fowl and went for me. He seemed intent on my eyes and face."

Hutchings killed the bird after several minutes of fighting. He suffered minor injuries. The chicken was unharmed.

LET'S TALK TURKEY!

ABSENTEE OWNER WANTS ACTION! He has a three bedroom with three bath home, plus maid's room and bath. The screened lanai faces a pool. Double garage. The home has a choice location and a big lot, 150'x135'. The house furnished is really worth the price of $45,000.

THE SMARTEST and one of the NEWEST homes in Palm Springs. Three bedroom with two baths, plus maid's room and bath. Each bedroom has a tremendous amount of closets. The home is custom built and not a year old — the decorator just finished the furnishings (and they have two TV sets). Refrigerated cooling and forced air heat — and of course, there's a pool. Home is ready to walk into — at a walk away price of $59,500.

A HOME THAT WOULD NOT ORDINARILY BE FOR SALE! A one bedroom, one bath delightful home on an R-3 lot. There's space for more units. Good investment for the future. $17,500 unfurnished.

CHOICE VIEW LOTS in Tennis Club area. One lot is 112x100 and priced at $7000. Another is 124x100 priced at $9000.
